The Honorable Allen W. Dulles

Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Dulles:

On behalf of the American Law Student Association, it is my pleasure to extend to you an invitation to visit the ALSA House of Delegates in session. We would be honored to have you speak briefly to the assembled delegates at any time you may find convenient. The sessions of the House of Delegates will be in the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel Willard, 1:00 to 5:30 p. m. on Sunday, August 28, and 1:00 to 3:30 p. m. on Monday, August 29.

The House of Delegates is responsible for the official business of our Twelfth Annual Meeting, which is being held in Washington, D. C., August 27-31. We have every reason to believe that this year's meeting will be the largest and most eventful in the history of our Association for we are expecting more than 200 law student leaders, representing more than 80 law schools, to be present.

A primary goal of our Association is to foster law student participation in the obligations and responsibilities of the legal profession, and, in serving this objective, we are keenly aware of the intimate relation between law and government. A brief address from you to the House of Delegates would emphasize this relationship and would serve as an inspiration to our meeting. We shall be extremely honored and privileged if you find that it is possible for you to be present.

We wish also to invite you to the ALSA reception which will be in the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel Willard on Sunday evening, August 28, 8:00 p. m. until 12:00. We realize, of course, that there are many pressing demands on your time, and we shall be quite pleased to have you attend, even though circumstances may dictate that your visit must be brief.

The delegates to our Annual Meeting will be delighted to have an opportunity to meet you, and I sincerely hope that you will accept our invitation.

Yours respectfully,

Richard J. Concannon
